

Dilan Çiçek Deniz

BIOGRAPHY

Born in 1995, Dilan Çiçek Deniz studied Comparative Literature at Istanbul Bilgi University. Throughout her high school and university years, she participated in various acting training programs both in Turkey and abroad. In the television world, she reached a wide audience by starring in successful productions such as "Pretty Little Liars," "Bodrum Fairytale," "The Pit," and "Flames of Fate". Her series "Interrupted" broadcast on BluTV, also garnered significant international attention. She received awards for her performance in "One-Way to Tomorrow," Turkey's first Netflix original film. Throughout her career, Deniz has been the face of many global brands such as 'Boucheron' and continues to play the lead role in the play "Amadeus," which has been running to sold-out audiences for six years. Deniz's short films she produced compete in international festivals. Her latest digital project recently met with audiences "Persona", in which she plays the lead role.
